GPU Accelerated Multimodal Background Subtraction

Peter Carr

Background Subtraction as a Stream Process

- Each pixel a gaussian mixture model (GMM)
- Calculations are independent – ideal for parallel implementation
- OpenGL pixel data type has insufficient space to store all GMM aspects; additional pixel buffer for weights
- Three element sorting easily realized within GPU constraints
- ‘Core Image’ requires manual optimization for good video performance (mainly in memory management)